JEERS, CHEERS GREET DECISION

Joe-Army Feud Bumps Ike Order And Halts—Possibly For All Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy-Army hearings bumped into a presidential order Monday and the result was that they came to an unexpected, dramatic halt—for a week at least, maybe forever.

Taking a personal hand, President Eisenhower issued a directive forbidding Army witnesses to testify about the role of White House and other high officials in the televised controversy between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and civilian Pentagon chiefs.

McCarthy cried "Iron Curtain!" Democrats raised a protest of "whitewash." And in the end the Senate Investigations Subcommittee voted to recess the public inquiry until next Monday to see if Eisenhower would withdraw or modify his secrecy clamp-down.

Acting chairman Mundt (R-SD) declared there is nothing about the recess which "even remotely implies a discontinuation of these hearings" for good. The Democrats, however, said it looked to them as if the hearings may well have blown sky high—unless the President should change his mind.

Proper Separation
The chances of Eisenhower doing this appeared pretty slim. The President said in Monday's secrecy order, issued to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, that his stand was taken "to maintain the proper separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches of the government in accordance with its responsibilities and duties under the Constitution."

And he said, too, in language that left little if any room for back-tracing:
"This separation is vital to preclude the exercise of arbitrary power by any branch of the government."

And so ended—for the time being, at least—18 days of unprecedented, nationally televised hearings that brought day after day of testimony from Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Army counsel John G. Adams—but only brief, incidental trips to the witness stand by their main antagonists, McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn.

A Poor Way To Cool Off On A Hot Day

Lincoln Air Force Base firemen dramatically demonstrate the proper way to put out blazing aircraft gasoline fires. They have to know because the KC-97 tanker planes stationed there carry thousands of gallons of the fuel when fully loaded. The demonstration, the first of several by the base, was witnessed by Seward firemen and the Lincoln Fire Chief, E. P. Feaster. Working from a giant, specially-built fire truck, two firemen waded through the simulated wreckage into the blaze itself (left picture) and squirt a layer of foam onto the blaze. In the picture at

27 Schools' Accredited Status Lost

Enrollment Drops Said Cause Of Losses.

Accredited status has been lost by 27 schools and seven have been dropped from the approved list, the state superintendent's office announced Monday.

Accredited schools are those that have a "reasonable" enrollment, qualified teachers and a good program of instruction, according to F. B. Decker, state superintendent. A school may lose its accredited status and still be on the approved list, he continued.

Only approved schools may charge tuition and share in the apportionment of state school funds. Small enrollment is the factor which most keeps a school off of the accredited list.

Schools Listed
The schools dropped from the accredited list this year:

Alda, Alvo, Ashton, Bellwood, Belvidere, Brunswick, Center, Clarks, Diller, Dixon, Edville, Edison, Endicott, Erickson Rural High, Fifth, Greenwood, Hardville, Huntley, Liberty, Mascot, Maywood, Honey Creek near Salem, Stamford, Virginia, Waterloo, Wood Lake and Elba.

Those dropped from approval: Bee, Cushing, DuBois, Hubbard, Magnet, O'Fallons, and Seneca Rural High School.

It was pointed out that Nebraska University accepts credits from approved and accredited schools alike.

Enrollment Down
Glenn Turner, Lancaster County superintendent, said that "the only thing against the Fifth school" is a drop in enrollment.

Dropping of the Fifth school from the accredited list, Turner said, "is no reflection on the instruction received in the school. It merely means the school has failed to meet the 10-pupil-per-teacher rule."

The school, Turner said, has three teachers and an enrollment of about 25. Each of the teachers has a masters degree.

Continuation Of Rain Seen

A continuation of welcome showers, which already Monday had brought up to 1.75 inches of rain to dry southwest Nebraska, is being forecast by the weather bureau for the entire state.

The forecast said showers could be expected in most of the state Tuesday and Tuesday night. Tuesday temperatures are expected to top at 60 to 70 degrees.

The parched southwest area was happiest about the rains, with Imperial reporting 1.75 inches, Sidney got .95 of an inch and Scottsbluff 1.40 inches.

The rains, which ended Monday, followed a week end which saw local flooding and crop damage from rains, which measured as high as 1.49 inches at Weeping Water, and from hail.

Five-Year-Old Run Over By Road Grader

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Bruce Carlson, 5-year-old Grand Island boy, died late Monday in a hospital of injuries suffered a few hours earlier when he was run over by a road grader.

The child reportedly was riding his tricycle in an area where new paving was being laid. The vehicle apparently tipped over, throwing the boy into the path of the grader.

He was taken to St. Francis Hospital where he died about 2 1/2 hours later. Bruce was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Carlson.

Canoe Upsets, Omahan Dies

ELY, Minn. (AP)—Dan L. Kenny, 35, Omaha, Neb. attorney, drowned in the North Kewishaw River 20 miles east of here when a canoe upset.

The death was reported Monday by Martin Carlson, a deputy sheriff. Kenny was riding in a canoe with J. J. Craft and Nate Kraft, both of Omaha. Carlson was told the three men became alarmed at racing water and started toward a bank. The current upset the canoe and Kenny disappeared.

In a second canoe were Dr. O. W. Neigh, Omaha, and Frank Viok, Topeka, Kan. The party returned here to report the accident.

Sufficient Harvesting Labor Seen

SES Predicts Normal Migration Will Suffice

Nebraska's wheat harvest machine and manpower needs will be met through normal migration this year, the State Employment Service predicted Monday.

The employment service noted that the forecast now is for a 63-million bushel crop this year, compared to 85 million bushels in 1953 and a ten-year average of 74 million bushels.

Throughout the custom combine area, the most promising crop conditions are in Deuel, North Cheyenne, and southern Morrill counties. The prospects are fair in Keith, Perkins, Box Butte, and in the vicinity of Hastings; whereas the prospects are poor in the vicinity around and west of McCook.

The harvest is expected to begin about July 4 and peak labor needs will be reached about July 10-12.

David E. Hutchinson of the Soil Conservation Service, Lincoln, Tuesday will receive a Superior Service Award from the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington.

Mr. Hutchinson is being recognized for his outstanding accomplishments in creating, preparing and using effective educational and informational procedures and methods. These activities have resulted in a marked increase of farmer knowledge regarding soil conservation resulting in an accelerated action program.

Mr. Hutchinson is Area Conservationist for Area II, United States Department of Agriculture, Soil Conservation Service, in Nebraska. In addition to carrying out these many responsibilities, he has been a leader in furthering the watershed philosophy both within and outside of the Soil Conservation Service. He has materially assisted in lifting the pilot watershed program, as demonstrated in the Salt-Wahoon Watershed Association area, to national prominence.

U. of N.
He attended the College of Agriculture, University of Nebraska, and graduated in 1930. In high school, he was the recipient of the Union Pacific $100 4-H Club scholarship. He was president of the University 4-H Club and a member of Alpha Zeta Honor Society.

This is Mr. Hutchinson's second trip to Washington to be honored. In 1926, he was a member of the two boy and two girl team to the First National 4-H Club Camp.

He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Lancaster County Fair Association from 1926 to 1934, serving as president of the Association in 1934.

Mr. Hutchinson started his career with the Soil Conservation Service as a Junior Technician Foreman, on November 9, 1935, at the Pawnee City, Nebraska CCC Camp. From December 1935, to October 1936, he was an Agricultural Aid. After a series of transfers, in 1939, he was made Assistant Soil Conservationist for Nebraska, as a cooperative agent between the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service. After serving in this capacity for two years, he returned to the Soil Conservation Service as District Conservationist for the Lincoln Work Group Area. In 1952, he became Area Conservationist for an enlarged Work Group Area, continuing his headquarters at Lincoln.

DAVID E. HUTCHINSON

By no means is "Hutch" the only one who wins honors in the Hutchinson family. In 1953, his daughter, Marlene, was a member of the three boy and three girl team that made the national 4-H Club report to President Eisenhower. And Mrs. Hutchinson was a 4-H Club national representative to Washington, D. C. in 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson and their three children live at 5722 Baldwin, Lincoln, Neb.

Segregation Erasure Assailed By Dixie; Gets Praise In North

Negro Children Leave Segregated School

South's Congressmen Foresee Grave Problems; Northerners Call Ruling An Action Of Social Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern members of Congress reacted sharply Monday to the Supreme Court's ruling that segregation in the nation's public schools is unconstitutional. Most of them called it an invasion of states' rights.

They raised a chorus of disappointment and predicted the decision would create grave problems in states where the education of white and Negro children is traditionally separated.

Many Northern legislators, on the other hand, commended the court's action as a sound one which advanced the interests of social justice in the United States.

The bitterness of some Southern members was exemplified by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), who declared:

"The South will not abide by not obeying this legislative decision by a political court. Integrated schools are not desired by either race in the South. We will take whatever steps are necessary to retain segregation in education."

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) said the ruling "leaves us with a problem as far-reaching as any we have met since the war between the states."

Justices of the Supreme Court, he said in a statement, "abandoned their role as judges of the law and organized themselves into a group of social engineers."

"A tragic ruling," commented Rep. Winstead (D-Miss.), "not too surprising when we realize the calibre of men this administration, as well as the previous administration, has seen fit to appoint, and the pressure on the court by the present attorney general."

Lehman Applauds
Among Northerners commending the decision was Sen. Lehman (D-N.Y.), who said:

"The Supreme Court, in declaring segregation unconstitutional, has spoken with authority and finally in outlawing the evil and degrading practice of segregation in our schools."

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said the ruling "will bring implications and dangers of the greatest consequence."

Sen. Case (R-SD) made a brief Senate speech applauding the decision. He said it would create new legislative problems for Congress and for the states, but that a decision throwing out segregation in education was past due.

White Leaders In Southland Bitter
ATLANTA (AP)—White political leaders on the Deep South reacted all the way from bitter criticism and near defiance through milder anger and on to quiet caution when the U. S. Supreme Court unanimously outlawed the area's traditional segregation of races in public schools.

Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, who has repeatedly vowed "there never will be mixed schools while I am governor," was the most violent in his reaction, declaring "The United States Supreme Court by its decision today has reduced our Constitution to a mere scrap of paper."

And in a neighboring state, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, a former Supreme Court justice, said because it has been held many times the separate but equal doctrine "I am shocked to learn that the court has reversed itself."

Restraint Urged
While awaiting the final decision, Byrnes has been one of the leading advocates of segregation, urged "all of our people, white and colored, to exercise restraint and preserve order."

Talmadge lashed out at the court ruling in a prepared statement, saying:

"It (the court) has blatantly ignored all law and precedent and usurped from the Congress and the people the power to amend the Constitution and from the Congress the authority to make the laws of the land."

"His action confirms the worst fears of the motives of the men who sit on its bench and raises a grave question as to the future of the nation."

He said Georgians "will fight for their right under the U.S. and Georgia Constitutions to manage their own affairs" and added the Supreme Court "lowered itself to the level of common politics" in handing down its unanimous ruling.

Negro Spokesmen Cheer
Negro spokesmen cheered the historic decision and expressed belief it could be made effective with a minimum of dislocation—given good will in both races.

The border states where segregation is practiced appeared to be taking the decision calmly.

Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi and William B. Umstead of North Carolina were among those who quickly expressed their disappointment.

Gov. Charley Johns of Florida said "my present inclination is to call" a special session of the Legislature, and he asked his attorney general for an "exhaustive study" of the ruling.

Some leaders viewed with relief the high court's delay in issuing decrees to make its ruling effective and saw this as a well-come opportunity to work out the complex problem.

U.S. Charges: Red Arms Shipped To Guatemala

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced Monday that an "important shipment of arms" from Soviet controlled territory is now being unloaded in leftist Guatemala amid a steadily worsening situation in Central America.

The department, which has repeatedly charged the Guatemalan government is "playing the Communist game," said it considers this a "development of gravity."

In the background of the department's announcement is mounting concern among American authorities over indications of increasing Communist activity to promote strife in various Central American countries.

A wildcat strike, now approaching its second week, is continuing to paralyze the entire northern seaborne of Guatemala's southern neighbor, Honduras. Secretary of State Dulles suggested last week Guatemalan diplomatic agents may have triggered the unprecedented walkout.

Nicaragua Cache
Several weeks ago the Nicaraguan government announced discovery of a cache of 40 rifles, two submachine guns, 20 hand grenades and four automatic pistols buried along the Pacific Coast of the country. The rifles bore hammer and sickle markings.

The cache was found shortly after an unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Nicaragua's anti-Communist President, Anastasio Somoza. The United States is in the process of providing military aid to Nicaragua and Honduras to shore up the two countries against any Communist move from Guatemala toward the Panama Canal.

Supreme Court. The High Court said it would hear further arguments this fall on how to end the practice. (AP Wirephoto.)

Water Plant Estimate OK'd

Plans and specifications with a $403,000 estimate have been approved by the City Council for the expansion of the city's Ashland water treatment plant.

Approval of the project marks the end of work under stage one of the current improvement program for Black & Veatch, Kansas City engineering firm which has had a major role in developing the entire program as well as the Ashland plant work. The Ashland work will just about double the present 20 million gallon a day capacity of the plant.

Work to be done includes a new aerator tank, new contact basin, connections with the expanded well field and the new 48-inch Ashland to Lincoln transmission line and other piping and electrical work. Bids will be received on the work June 16.

—French Make New Truce Proposal—
Offer Made To Remove Wounded Of Both Sides

... New Air Strikes Against Rebels Readied

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French high command made a new six-point proposal Monday night for evacuating Dien Bien Phu's wounded, including an offer to evacuate seriously wounded rebel soldiers.
The new plan, broadcast to the rebels over the French Radio, came as the French Air Force prepared to hurl all available American-supplied planes in mighty strikes at Vietminh troops moving toward the Red river Delta.
The French proposal called for: Repair of Dien Bien Phu's airfield to permit the use of larger planes in airlifting the wounded; removal of the wounded at the highest possible rate; cessation of air strikes on the 70-mile highway between Dien Bien Phu and

Officials Look For Man Seen At Death Site

OMAHA (AP)—Sargy county and Omaha law officers said Monday night a "lead" in the shooting of Grocer Carl Yelinek had failed to pan out.
The officers explained that a suspect, who had quarreled with Yelinek, whose little store is just inside Sargy County south of Omaha, did not fit the description of a man seen in the store.
Sargy County Sheriff Ernest Arp said an autopsy showed Yelinek was shot three times, twice in the head, with a .22 calibre pistol. The head wounds were the fatal ones.
Meanwhile, a man wearing a brown suit who was seen in the store Sunday night was still being sought.
The man was noticed by other customers in the store that evening and was believed to be the last person in the store before the slaying.
Yelinek's store is a weather frame building with bachelor living quarters at the rear. It is just inside the Sargy County line at the south edge of Omaha.
Officers were also considering the report of Mrs. Ted Ologual, Omaha, that she and her husband saw four or five men—some of them in military uniform—drive away from the store about 11:30 a.m. Sunday as Yelinek came outside with a brick in his hand.
"Oh, you saved my life!" she quoted Yelinek as saying. "They're going to break my windows. They're going to kill me."
Yelinek was found dead shortly after 8:30 p.m.
Jacob Greguras said he and a friend were drinking beer in the store between 7:20 and 7:55 p.m. There was a stranger there, he said, dressed in a brown suit and with three beer bottles lined up in front of him.
"Emil Mixan Jr., 10, who went to the store at 8:15 p.m. to buy some milk returned with the milk and reported to his mother that he had heard Yelinek in the back room 'making funny noises.'"
Yelinek appeared to have been shot once in the jaw and once in the chest. Investigators also found a smashed bullet in a door frame and at the foot of a wall.
Yelinek's shotgun, loaded and broken open, was found on a chair in another room. It had not been fired.
Investigators, including state safety patrolmen, were unable to find an automatic pistol which Yelinek had displayed last week.

Lincoln Hopes For Federal School Money

Lincoln hopes to get some of the federal funds asked of Congress Monday to help areas crowded by federal workers or workers on federal projects with school construction.
President Eisenhower made the request for an extra $34,100,000 in a letter to speaker of the House Martin. The extra funds, for the next fiscal year beginning July 1, is in addition to $40 million already in the budget for the same purpose for the fiscal year ahead.
Lincoln Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins found encouragement in the President's action. It appears, said Watkins, that this is the program that Lincoln is concerned with.
The Lincoln school system has applied for $690,300 in federal aid for construction purposes during the 1954-55 fiscal year beginning July 1. This is based on an estimated 5 per cent or more of federally-connected pupils in the school system.
"Evidently," said Watkins, "the President supports the program and the reasons for its existence."
The $40 million now in the school aid budget is not sufficient to meet current demands, said Watkins. Besides the appropriation, the program must be extended as it expires at the end of this fiscal year.

Numerous irate citizens took their complaints to the County Board of Equalization Monday following receipt of re-evaluation real estate notices received in the mail the first of the week.

Members of the E. T. Wilkins and Associates, tax revaluation organization, headed off the onrush of complainants who had received increases in their real estate valuations. The Wilkins Company only recently compiled a complete survey of the county in appraisal of real estate property.

Close to two dozen complaints were scheduled for a hearing before the equalization board, composed of the county commissioners. An increased number of hearings are scheduled for later in the week.
Under the new system, persons who seek readjustment of property appraisal first file a complaint with the county assessor, then take their case to the commission sitting at the board of equalization.

George Ponton Of Elgin Heads State K Of C

BEATRICE, Neb.—George Ponton of Elgin was elected state warden of the Nebraska Council of the Knights of Columbus as the group ended its 50th annual meet here Monday. Louis V. Michal of Lincoln was named state secretary.

Other officers elected were Glenn J. McEniry of Kearney, state deputy; Lawrence Weides of Lexington, state treasurer; John F. Kerrigan of Fremont, re-elected state advocate.

Named as delegates to the supreme council at Louisville, Ky., in August were the Rev. Clarence J. Crowley of Hebron, Walter J. Murz of Fremont, Dr. J. F. Brockhaus of Madison, Clifford C. Miller of Omaha and Don Schimenti of Beatrice.

Meanwhile, Charles J. Ducey of New Haven, Conn., director of the group's service department struck out at the lack of religion in American schools and the immorality of magazines today. "We must act as individual Catholics and as a united Knights of Columbus to try to eradicate these evils," Ducey said. The Most Rev. Louis B. Kucera, bishop of Lincoln, also hit at the modern-day disregard for morality by publishers of magazines and comic books and advocated a clean-up program aimed at the books.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Roman Catholic weekly America said in an editorial Monday Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) was attempting a "piecemeal and peaceful" overthrow of the presidency.

The publication said the current McCarthy-Army hearings have "dramatized across the nation the grave constitutional issue posed by Sen. McCarthy's methods."

McCarthy is a Catholic. The nationally distributed magazine is published by members of the Jesuit Order. Its editor is the Rev. Robert C. Hartnett.

America said the presidency is the only office filled by national election, and under the principle of separation of powers, is directly delegated by the people as the executive authority.

No Chance To Vote

"Whether or not the President is properly discharging the duties assigned him by the people," the magazine said, "is for the people as a whole to decide—not the junior senator from Wisconsin, on whom the American people never had a chance to vote."

The magazine said the incident of the confidential FBI "letter," which McCarthy said he got from an Army intelligence officer, illustrates the use of the "rule of men" to defy the "rule of law"—the "hallmark of free government."

Noting McCarthy refused to name his informant, the magazine said:

"The mere fact that his informant had violated his oath of office, had violated Army regulation 380-10, had violated an executive order of March 15, 1948, and had possibly even violated the Internal Security Act of 1950 meant nothing to the senator."

Enforcing Agency

"Worse still, pro tem chairman Mundt, on advice from subcommittee counsel Ray Jenkins, ruled that Senator McCarthy, like all 'law-enforcing officers,' had no duty to reveal the source of his information."

"Why they regarded the subcommittee as a 'law enforcing' agency they failed to reveal—perhaps because it is a law-making, not law-enforcing body."

"McCarthy seems to think that all the operations of the government boil down to one: Eliminating people he judges subversive," the magazine said, adding:

"If he insists on his piecemeal and 'peaceful' overthrow of the presidency, he may do great harm to U. S. policy by his so far very successful diversionary tactics."

A Cripple Finds A Roost At Home

Lincoln's new 100-foot ladder and aerial pumper limped home to its roost with two broken front springs, encountered during a rough trip from its homeing base. The aerial, cost $37,000, was delayed by, close to two hours from being unloaded at the local railroad yards before the spring could be welded sufficiently to permit it to be moved to the firehouse garage. The engine will go into service at the new station at So. Cotner and A Sts. Besides its 100-foot ladder, the engine holds 1,000 gallons of water. (Star Photo.)

Mrs. Roscoe Hill Is Elected President Of School Board

Mrs. Roscoe Hill has been elected president of the Board of Education to succeed Robert Venner.

Elected vice president was Dr. Paul Bancroft. Venner has served as president for the past year and one-half.

In leaving the post, Venner cited the school building program.

MRS. ROSCOE HILL

gram as one of the most outstanding achievements during his term as president. The $6 million building program, he said, has moved along according to schedule and most contracts have been let for less than the estimate.

"We are now approaching the end of the $6 million program," said Venner, "and it looks like we shall be able to give the people more than they anticipated. However, we have been confronted with new building needs since the bond issue was approved three years ago."

Fine Job

Venner also noted what he termed a "fine" new teacher recruitment program. The entire staff, said Venner, has done a fine job in securing outstanding additions to the teaching staff.

The school district, said Venner, has also completed its part of the southeast diagonal program, thus clearing the way for an early start on the new Lincoln High School activities building.

Besides the election, the Board delayed the rental of five homes from Strauss Bros. in the new Eastridge housing area until next week when a final contract will be presented by Attorney Willis Hecht.

New Addition

In a report to the Board, Superintendent of Schools Steven N. Watkins stated that there are now 59 children in the kinder-garden through sixth grade age group living in Eastridge with an estimated 105 children in that group to be living in the new addition when the planned 206 homes are completed.

Children now living in Eastridge are attending Hawthorne and Holmes. The five houses to be converted into classrooms and used until a new school can be constructed.

In other action, the Board made plans for an open meeting at which time interested parties might present their views on Northeast school ninth grade students participating in regular varsity football. Ninth graders in junior high schools participate in school football programs but not in regular varsity play.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

In the morning I drove south from Bayonne to the Spanish frontier. If you like, you can make a little circuit of two kilometers and go through Biarritz.

Biarritz is an extremely plush resort. Frequenting it by Mr. Somerset Maugham, Mr. Winston Churchill, assorted kings out of jobs and millionaires.

Everything was closed tight. It was not the season yet. The grand hotels were shuttered. And a cold wind and rain beat fiercely on the Basque coast. The Atlantic was spraying high over the cliffs.

The closed hotels were white and austere and looked terribly expensive. The landscape was a good deal like Santa Barbara, with climbing geraniums over the estate walls.

I stopped only long enough to spend 15 francs on the local Sud Ouest and learn a service station had been destroyed by fire. "La Conference sur l'Indochine" was laying around waiting for Duz or somebody to do everything.

I gathered Mr. Eisenhower would not need my immediate services and plunged into Spain.

Driving in Europe is not much of a problem. There were signs everywhere pointing to "Espagne."

At little Ciboure, 11 kilometers from the border, the Basque fishermen stood in the doorways out of the wind and rain. They had homemade cigarettes stuck to their underlips and wore berets and blue coats.

The town was all white buildings with Chinese red shutters. All the fishing boats in the river were painted a bright sky blue.

At the frontier, you take your passport to be stamped. In another building, they check your carnet de passage. This is a large book full of tickets. Each ticket details your car, its serial numbers and number of tries.

They take one out when you go into a country and one out when you go out. You get the carnet de passage (along with red "TT" international plates) when you buy a car.

Across the international bridge, the Spanish border men were dressed in olive green. A man at the passport control stamped my passport. Another man clipped a coupon from the carnet de passage and put 50 pesetas worth of stamps on the back.

The tourist peseta runs 40 to $1 U. S. A special rate of advantage to the tourist. You can bring in 10,000 pesetas. There is a slight advantage to buying them outside the country.

A customs man asked if I had anything to declare. He did not look at the baggage. The whole crossing took 15 minutes. By nightfall I was down to Burgos at the Hostal del Cid.

Burgos has a magnificent 13th Century cathedral set behind a massive arched gate that looks like a setting for a de Mille production.

The hotel on the edge of town is named for Don Rodrigo de Vivar—El Cid Campeador. Don Rodrigo operated hereabouts in the mid-1200s. He gave the Moors their lumps, and was highly thought of by people who were against the Moors. Which was pretty much everybody.

Nowadays they name hotels and restaurants and shoe shops for El Cid. A good deal like we name movie theaters.

There was a little reading room. For Spanish hotels usually serve their cocktails in the lobby.

A Doctor Brown from Los Angeles was at one of the tables. He said the martinis were not stateside. But the country was wonderful.

"Everybody you meet in Spain is friendly," he said. "After France, it's quite a pleasure."

He was driving a Mercedes-Benz that he bought in Stuttgart for $2,700. It was a beautiful, long green car and ran on diesel oil.

"You love it when you drive into a gas station," he said. "I'm going to ship it to New York and drive it to Los Angeles. Know what I figure it will cost me to drive? About $12.50, that's all."

GOP cooling Off On School Federal Aid

WASHINGTON - There has been a backstage hassle inside the administration over the badly needed federal program to promote construction of new schools.

Sam Brownell, commissioner of education and brother of Attorney General Brownell, is for the school-construction bill, but he's been stopped dead in his tracks—largely by the baby member of the Eisenhower subcommittee, 27-year-old assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Roswell Perkins. Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary for HEW, is also against the school bill.

However, it looks as if the Senate would pass the bill anyway. Here is what has happened. About three weeks ago Secretary Hobby testified before the Senate Labor and Education Committee that she favored the principle of school-building construction, but wanted further conferences before it was undertaken. Specifically she wanted one conference in each of the 48 states, plus one big final conference at the White House.

To this, Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, long-time champion of federal aid to schools, objected. There have already been seven national conferences on this question," he said in brief. "The conferences even began with the Hoover administration. Seven million dollars have already been spent on a school survey. Meanwhile our schools are more and more crowded. So it seems to me this is a time for action, not talk."

The Eisenhower administration," said Hill, "made a specific pledge to help the schools, and this is the time to do it." Sen. John Cooper of Kentucky, Republican, agreed, and as a result the Senate committee went ahead with hearings on a bill authorizing federal aid to school construction.

SAM BROWNELL MUZZLED

Lead-off witness at the hearings was to have been Education Commissioner Brownell. He had previously announced that there was a national shortage of 340,000 classrooms. And his staff worked late at night preparing his testimony for the Senate committee.

But just before he was scheduled to testify, Brownell phoned chairman Cooper to say he could not appear. He had received blunt orders from Mrs. Hobby that he could make no statement. Actually it was bright, young Assistant Secretary Roswell Perkins who was behind Mrs. Hobby's action. He had written a report, which went to the Senate over Mrs. Hobby's signature, opposing federal aid for school construction—even though she had previously stated that there is a $5,000,000,000 backlog of school construction.

FALLING INTO PLACE

The senator merely was tossing a generous hunk of campaign oratory back to the President and his advisers when he replied to Mr. Eisenhower's directive Monday.

What he said, however, should not confuse the public. The senator merely was tossing a generous hunk of campaign oratory back to the President and his advisers when he replied to Mr. Eisenhower's directive Monday.

NEW PRESIDENT

Nebraska University's new chancellor, Clifford Hardin, made a good impression on the press Sunday at his first interview. He is a neighborly man with the common touch and a faculty for friendliness. The latter is infectious, disarming even hardened newsmen. His scholarship is attested by his position, but Dr. Hardin has learned to live happily with it and with an unusual degree of independence.

Nebraskans are going to like him. There seems to be a natural kinship and a happy meeting of minds on what constitutes education and the objectives of a state university. The state has always liked its institutions of higher learning and it appears that that comradeship is assured of continuing with ever warmer affection.

Agricultural State

Anselmo, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I suppose it puzzles all of us at times to figure out just why some of our congressmen vote as they do on many laws. Our state is an agricultural state. No matter what we are doing individually, whatever benefits agriculture benefits all of us, and when we elect a candidate, we expect him to represent agriculture. How often we are disappointed as we check their votes on many questions. We find them favoring some other business or some other section of the country. We notice that other agricultural states have congressmen who will stand up for agriculture every time. Should we not check more closely on how our representatives vote? Texas, California, all the other states have their own to look after their interests. Why must we assist them at our own expense, even if party leaders do so decide? Our great Sen. Norris did not always vote as the party whip said, and we always knew he was for us. If we could only find more such men!

Our representatives should not follow Secretary Benson's reasoning that as farmers are in a minority, he should be working for the interests of other groups. He seems to forget at times that agriculture is what he is to represent.

We should require any candidate who asks our support to agree to work for the farmers instead of oil companies, coal companies, lumber companies, and industries that are out of our line. Other states have their representatives; let us elect our officials to represent Nebraska. The party should not always come first.

Solar Energy

Bar Harbor, Me.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The recent H-bomb blasts on the one hand and Dr. Gustavson's recent Poynter Foundation lecture in Omaha on the other impel me to speak out concerning something which has long bothered me. That is the consistent silence of all informed sources on one aspect of the matter which seems to me so evident that I can only consider this official silence deliberate.

Dr. Gustavson's official role is that of directing one of the most important conservation organizations of the world today—the Ford Foundation's division of "Resources for the Future." Uranium and its products, plutonium and related substances are essential as the fuel itself of the old A-bomb and as the detonator in the H-bomb. They will also be essential for any "peaceful" use of atomic energy. Now, these substances stand at the very top of the chemist's "periodic table" of elements; that is, they are the largest, heaviest, most complex and hence rarest of all materials on this earth. They were "created" in the cosmic heat of the birth of our own particular "universe." They are never going to be created again, at least at any place or time which can be of any use to man. They represent an irreplaceable "resource."

Since our present civilization began, the world's energy economy has been built on fuels consisting of one of the smaller elements, carbon, characterized by the capacity to store solar energy in the form of photosynthetic carbohydrates and hydrocarbons. When one uses wood or coal, or oil, or gas as a fuel, one is merely transferring this solar energy from one form to another. Coal is burned to carbon dioxide, the carbon dioxide is absorbed by plants, given a new dose of solar energy which makes it again into wood and eventually again becomes available for man's uses.

But when one uses uranium as a fuel, it is degraded to lead or barium or cobalt or hydrogen or in the H-bomb, to free energy alone, divorced from all substance. At that level it is put back into the cosmic continuum and will never again be available to man short of the creation of a "new" universe.

Every time we set off such an explosion, we are dissipating irretrievably one of our rarest of all resources. In terms of total available energy, even the minute traces stored in the granites of our mountains may seem very

With Open Mind

The proposals to amend Lincoln's home rule charter, which will be submitted at a special city election, are the product of experience in recent years.

That home rule charter was adopted more than 35 years ago. There have been very few substantial changes made in it since its adoption. Lincoln, thanks to the gratifying growth of recent years, a growth that has added to population, to financial needs of a community, to expanded physical area, to new and punishing problems in city government, is entirely a different city than Lincoln was when the home rule charter originally was approved.

Government By Secrecy

How politically shrewd is Sen. Joe McCarthy?

President Eisenhower had issued an executive directive barring government officials from telling Senate investigators about their private conversations bearing on the McCarthy-Army squabble, or furnishing confidential documents to the Senate investigators. The President's directive was based upon precedent (12 Presidents have taken similar ground to support separation of the powers of the executive and legislative branches of government) and actually soundly rooted.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

If you were to attempt to put a finger upon the one development which has enriched Nebraska rural life most since the turn of the century, would it be: (a) sound soil conservation practices? (b) expansion of irrigation? (c) development of a modern highway system? or (d) rural electrification? At best, the answer would involve a tough choice. All four have contributed mightily to changing rural Nebraska's way of life.

Lights For The Rural Home

Washington's present policy of cutting funds for the construction of transmission lines to supply REA's with an adequate supply of low-cost power generated at government dams. Instead of 90 per cent of the farm homes being in darkness and with kerosene lamps, now 90 per cent have modern electrical appliances and electrified farm machinery and are paying their loans off ahead of due date. For many years, Monroney said, the rural electrification program was called "socialistic" by the old guard Republicans, but it has proved to be the greatest program that the farmers ever had, and in no sense is socialistic. Private contractors and private business, he declared, built every mile of the lines. "For every dollar loaned at 2 per cent interest to REA co-ops, more than $10 in private sales occurred on the main streets of small towns and cities as the necessary electrical appliances, made and sold by private industry, went on these lines. Out of two billion dollars in loans, this meant that more than $10 billion in sales went to small business," Mr. Monroney told his audience. No less important, the introduction of electricity to the farm brought about the emancipation of the farm wife and mother from the grim drudgery which had fallen to her mother and her grandmother.

Falling Into Place

Attorney General Herbert Brownell has created a new division in the Department of Justice. It will devote its full attention to internal security. This means the department is preparing to play a bigger and continuing role in the protection of the country from subversives and spies.

NEW PRESIDENT

Nebraska University's new chancellor, Clifford Hardin, made a good impression on the press Sunday at his first interview. He is a neighborly man with the common touch and a faculty for friendliness. The latter is infectious, disarming even hardened newsmen. His scholarship is attested by his position, but Dr. Hardin has learned to live happily with it and with an unusual degree of independence.

Included among Lincoln PEO chapters which will hold regular meetings this week are Chapter AI and Chapter DK. Members of Chapter AI will meet at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, at the Foods and Nutrition Building on the Agricultural College campus when a program will be presented under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Wickham and Mrs. E. W. Ruehle. Mrs. Carl Berg and Mrs. D. E. Weese will be co-hostesses.

The meeting of Chapter DK also will be held at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, when Mrs. L. F. Neuman will entertain the members at her home, 4240 Starr. Mrs. Roy C. WE'RE STILL waiting for the word that will give us the go sign on some of the news we have at hand. Incidentally—we also still are waiting for the pictures of two very charming brunettes that will accompany the news—But one of these days soon both will be here and then we can tell what we know.

In the meantime the May and June brides keep the calendar well filled with activity—and in addition to this morning's quota of prenuptial courtesies, we have news of some guests who have been in town recently—

ONE OF the June brides who comes in for attention this morning is Miss Shirley Sidles, whose marriage to Thomas Bowman of Denver takes place on Saturday, June 19, and for whom the courtesies already have begun.

Today, for instance, the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Carl Olson, will be a luncheon hostess in her honor when she entertains at luncheon at the Lincoln Country club—who will be presented with a bathroom shower.

And on Saturday morning Miss Sidles will be the incentive for the 10 o'clock coffee for which Mrs. J. Marshall Neely, her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Williams of Omaha; Mrs. W. W. Carveth and her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence McKee, and Mrs. Oliver Brown will be hostesses at the home of Mrs. Neely. Forty guests have been invited for the coffee and a miscellaneous shower.

ON SUNDAY Miss Sidles will be complimented when Mrs. Fred S. Sidles and Mrs. Fred M. Sidles are brunch hostesses at the home of Mrs. Fred M. Sidles. A small group of guests has been invited for the 11 o'clock party.

TWO more June brides, Miss Patricia Loder, who is to marry Randall Ayer on June 23 in Wilmette, Ill., and Miss Sally Hall, whose marriage to Kenneth Rystrom takes place on June 13 in Holdrege, will share honors on Friday evening when Miss Barbara Bell and Miss Mary Janet Reed are hostesses at supper and a personal shower at the home of Miss Reed.

AND this is the morning that Miss Shirley Hamilton of North Platte, whose marriage to Richard D. Duerr of Ottumwa, Ia., will be solemnized on Saturday, June 12, is announcing the members of the bridal party. Miss Donna Hamilton of Nevada, Mo., will be her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaid and the bridesmatron are Miss Joan Holden of San Antonio, Tex., and Mrs. Dale H. Bass of Bennington, Miss

The guest list included the members of the active chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, of which Miss Hamilton is president, and was held at the Gamma Phi Beta house. Miss Hamilton was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

The annual membership tea for the Lincoln Woman's Club was held Monday afternoon at the Governor's Mansion with Mrs. F. H. # Plan For Practical Nurses' Training Dropped

Program Cost Deciding Factor

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

The Board of Education has tabled the proposed establishment of a practical nurses' training program in the Lincoln school system.

Recommendation for establishment of the program was made to the Board by the Nebraska State Nurses' Association through its president Mrs. Del LaVerne Watson.

A recent survey by the Association, wrote Mrs. Watson, "would seem to indicate interest and need for a one-year practical nurse school in Lincoln." The survey in Lincoln high schools, said Mrs. Watson, indicate that a reasonable per cent of high school girls are interested in such a program.

The cost of setting up the program stopped the Board, however. It was noted by Superintendent Steven Watkins, and the Association will be so advised, that there will be no state funds available for matching of federal funds to establish the program until July of 1955.

Board Vice President Dr. Paul Baneroff reminded the Board that the program suggested was very worthwhile and should not be given any hasty decision. There is a tremendous need for practical nurses, he said, and they would be hired by the hospitals as fast as they were trained.

The Lincoln school system now

Dr. Hardin Tells NU Faculty High Standards Will Continue

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, chancellor-elect of the University of Nebraska, pledged continued emphasis on the university's high faculty scholarship, high teaching standards and maintenance of the institution's "common touch" in his formal introduction to the faculty Monday afternoon.

The new chancellor was introduced to upward of 300 faculty members by present Chancellor John K. Selleck at a late afternoon gathering at the University Student Union.

After a brief formal statement in which he outlined the general objectives but said "I am still too new to the institution to discuss any detailed program," Dr. Hardin terminated the formalities of the meeting and descended from the rostrum to mingle with the faculty.

Aided by Dean J. P. Colbert, dean of the Division of Student Affairs who conducted the personal introductions, Dr. Hardin spent a relaxing half hour with his new associates.

General faculty reaction to the new chancellor was warmly friendly.

It was the final event of the chancellor-elect's first formal visit to the university which included a general press conference Sunday, a formal dinner given by present Chancellor John K. Selleck attended by the Board of Regents, deans and others Sunday night and a Monday noon luncheon at the Cornhusker at which he was introduced to a group of Lincoln business and civic leaders by the Board of Regents.

Chancellor and Mrs. Hardin will return to East Lansing, Mich., Tuesday, where the former will continue his duties at Michigan State University. He will return early in June for the Nebraska spring commencement and will assume the active chancellorship here July 1.

Postma Fined $50, Gets $500 Bond Back

Former University of Nebraska Student Robert E. Postma, 19, was fined $50 and sentenced to seven days in jail Monday after pleading guilty in District Court to a charge of driving on a suspended license.

The jail term, however, was dropped when Judge Harry Spencer ruled Postma had already served seven days in County Jail pending outcome of an appeal of a Municipal Court sentence. In Municipal Court, where Postma had pleaded guilty, he was fined $50 and given 30 days in jail.

A bond of $500, still held by Municipal Court, was offered by Postma's attorneys after appealing the plea of guilty. The return of the bond, though, was refused by Municipal Judge John Jacobson on the premise that no final disposition of the case had been made when Postma was granted a writ of habeas corpus over the objections of the county attorney's office.

The writ was granted, according to Judge Spencer, on the basis of a Supreme Court ruling a few days earlier which said a person had a right to appeal a case even after pleading guilty.

There still is pending an appeal to the Supreme Court whether Postma's habeas corpus writ was qualified because of a wording in the law setting the number of days in which to appeal a plea of guilty in a lower court.

Judge Spencer in pronouncing the sentence ordered the "tendered cash bond being held by the clerk of Municipal Court... be returned to the defendant."

Postma, who lives at South Sioux City, since has dropped out of school.

Bristol's Filing For Office Again Plagued By Mixup

Clarence R. Bristol, Ansley grain dealer, who wants to run for the Republican nomination for governor, is having difficulty with the filing procedure for state office.

First, he sought to file without first paying the required $10 filing fee with the treasurer of his county of residence. The filing was rejected by the secretary of state with information that the receipt had to accompany his filing.

Monday, his filing was returned by mail with the receipt from the county treasurer. However, he had paid $50, the filing fee for U. S. Senator, instead of the $10 for governor.

The receipt arrived at about the same time as a telephone call from Custer County Treasurer Laurabel Linder, reporting the error.

The filing and receipt now goes back to Broken Bow so that Bristol can try again.

Engineer Ress To Visit Western Part Of State

He is to address the Bridgeport Lions club Tuesday noon and the Mitchell Commercial Club Wednesday noon.

On Wednesday afternoon he will meet at the Sioux county courthouse at Harrison with ranchers interested in the improvement of highway Neb. 29.

The work is tentatively scheduled for the next two-year program, Ress said.

Murder Charge Filed Against Joseph DeYonghe, Pen Inmate

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A charge of first degree murder was filed Monday against Joseph E. DeYonghe, Jr., 21, who, according to the county attorney, has confessed the killing of Guard John M. Claussen.

Also filed was a mental health affidavit which will bring into session the County Mental Health Board to consider commitment of DeYonghe to the State Hospital in Lincoln.

There were indications Monday that Dr. Rex Strader, regular member of the County Mental Health Board, would disqualify himself for sitting in on the DeYonghe hearings. Reason given was that Strader already had sat in on examinations of DeYonghe as a member of a panel of five psychiatrists who decided the convict was "legally sane but not medically sane" at the present time.

The panel suggested DeYonghe be held at the State Hospital until such time as he is considered medically sane and able to stand trial against the murder charge.

There were questions raised Monday against the authority of the county attorney to order the county mental board to consider DeYonghe's case. The penitentiary medical board has the authority to consider the problem of prisoners who are considered to be mentally ill.

State law reads that whenever the prison physician shall believe any convict confined therein is considered mentally ill, he shall certify that fact to the governor who shall immediately order an examination by the Penitentiary medical board.

The law further states that if the board decided the inmate is mentally ill, the governor shall order the convict to be removed to one of the state hospitals for proper care and medical treatment.

The hearings by the County Mental Board of Health, originally scheduled for this Friday, have been set up indefinitely pending the possible appointment of a psychiatrist to take Dr. Strader's place should he disqualify himself.

Official Ball Game

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — John M. Gibson, 13, of Independence, Mo., visited the Missouri State Senate where his father is Democratic floor leader. By long standing custom, he was appointed an honorary page. His "pay" was set out in a formal resolution which was adopted by the Senate. It directed his father, Sen. Floyd R. SCOTIA, Neb. (AP)—A 17-year-old farm youth drowned in a sand pit a mile south of Scotia.

He was Raymond Stanger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stanger Jr., whose farm is just south of Scotia.

Raymond and five other boys including his younger brother, Gerald, had gone to the sand pit to swim and fish.

Others in the party said Raymond apparently suffered cramps. Hillis Palser, one of the youths, made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue Raymond.

The Scotia volunteer fire department recovered the body about 10 p.m.

The parents, Gerald and an older brother survive.

'55 Vehicle Values Set Up

The State Board of Equalization adopted the formal order setting up motor vehicle valuation for 1955.

The figure for 1955 models is to be 75 per cent of factory list price. Four per cent will be added for accessories in the case of passenger cars, and 2 per cent in the case of trucks.

Also for passenger cars, $2.50 per hundred pounds will be added for freight. Trucks will be assessed a flat $90 per unit to cover freight.

The base figure for 1954 passenger cars will be 70 per cent of factory list price, and for trucks, 65 per cent of list.

For each additional year, back to 1946, an additional 10 per cent will be taken off of the list price of the vehicle.

Taxicabs will be allowed 10 per cent more for depreciation each year than private cars.

World's First!

Phillips 66 presents the first All-Weather Motor Oil which has proved it meets the most exacting standard ever established for automobile lubrication...
Mil-0-2104, Supplement 1 level.

THE toughest standard ever set up for automobile lubrication is the Mil-0-2104 Supplement 1 test. New TROP-ARTIC is the first all-weather motor oil to meet the requirements of this test. It is an oil which will serve you winter and summer... an oil so good it can double the life of an automobile engine!

Compared to ordinary motor oils, new TROP-ARTIC reduces ring wear 40% or more. It cuts oil consumption 15% to 45%. It keeps pistons and bearings cleaner... longer-lasting. It saves you money by increasing gasoline mileage. This has been demonstrated in tests representing more than 150,000 miles of driving.

TROP-ARTIC is truly an all-weather oil... S.A.E. 10W through S.A.E. 30. Therefore it flows instantly for easy starting at sub-zero temperatures, and yet it retains the film strength necessary to prevent engine wear under high temperature driving conditions. It isn't just heavy duty. It's double duty.

Any car, in any climate, at any time of the year will perform better with Phillips 66 TROP-ARTIC. It is a worthy companion product to Phillips 66 FLITE-FUEL, the new high performance gasoline recently introduced by Phillips. This year of all years it pays to stop at the station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Bill Would Extend Benefits Of Water

WASHINGTON (P)—The Senate agriculture committee Monday approved a bill which would extend to the whole country the benefits of water conservation legislation now applying only to 17 western states.

Under it, the secretary of agriculture is authorized to formulate a program for the construction and maintenance of water facilities to promote proper utilization of land.

It has been applied so far only to arid and semi-arid sections of the western states. The new legislation would extend it to all states and to Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Loans to individuals and groups for this purpose are made by the farmers' home administration. The committee also approved an amendment which would allow loans to be obtained from banks and other sources and to be insured by the government.

Human Heredity Is Discussed By Oklahoma Dean

OMAHA — Mendelian principles of heredity, discovered in a study of sweet pea plants almost a hundred years ago, now are applied to problems of human heredity in five ways.

The five ways described by Dr. Lawrence H. Snyder, dean of the graduate college of the University of Oklahoma, speaking as a Sigma Xi national lecturer Monday night before the combined Sigma Xi chapters of the University of Nebraska and Creighton University on the Nebraska College of Medicine campus. Sigma Xi is the national society for the encouragement of scientific research.

They are: 1. prevention, that is the instituting of preventive measures against certain diseases and anomalies, on the basis of specific genetic backgrounds; 2. diagnosis, on the basis of genetic data, of conditions difficult to identify by other means; 3. genetic prognosis, that is, the furnishing of information to families and prospective families as to the chances of the appearance or reappearance of a particular trait in the family; 4. the determination of non-paternity in instances of disputed parentage; and 5. the solution of the problems of blood diseases of the newborn due to incompatibility of mother and child in regard to the Rh factor and related blood factors.

Hemingford Girl, 8, Crushed To Death Between Truck, Bank

By the Associated Press

Darlene Sue Rising, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rising of Hemingford, was fatally injured when she was crushed between a truck and a bank along the side of a country road northwest of Hemingford, Box Butte County Attorney Robert Moran said.

Her death brought Nebraska's auto fatality toll to 110 for the year, as compared to 76 at this time last year.

The Rising child was reported to have been standing on a bank watching her father and grandfather load a tractor on a truck. As the truck backed up to the bank, the girl apparently slipped off the truck and the bank. She was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Besides her parents and three grandparents, she is survived by a brother, Bobby, and a sister, Dorothy.

Other late highway deaths include:

Marvin Harms, 25, Wayne car body shop owner, burned to death south of Wayne on Highway 15 when his car caught fire after it struck a steer on the highway. Harms was unable to release himself when his arm was caught in the wreckage.

His survivors include his mother, Mrs. Mathilda Harms of Wayne; his grandmother, Mrs. Christine Ahlvers; and an uncle, William Harms.

Billy Carlson, 26, of Holdrege, was killed instantly when a convertible in which he was a passenger plowed into the rear of a semi-trailer truck on Highway 30 in Kearney. The auto was driven by Norman Hoffman, 27, also of Holdrege, according to Kearney Police Chief Thurston Nelson. Hoffman suffered a broken arm, cuts and bruises.

Leo M. Dew, 26, of Valentine lost his life when the auto he was driving skidded and over-

Budget Your Gas Bill

Customers using NATURAL GAS for heating can now pay the same amount each month and avoid those high bills in January, February and March each year.

During the first three months of each year usually there are Christmas bills, automobile license, automobile tax, Federal Income tax and other first-of-year bills that require a large amount of cash.

GAS HEATING BUDGET PAYMENTS

Will help even out your monthly obligations.

Adjustments for over-payments and under-payments must be balanced with the June payment each year. If you have overpaid your actual billing, the difference will be refunded to you. If you actually use more gas than estimated, you will pay the difference with the June payment. If an adjustment in gas rates causes an increase or decrease, the difference between budget payments and actual billed amounts will be handled the same way.

The account must be balanced in June of each year.

Monthly bills will be rendered as at present. Gas used will be billed at the firm gas price in effect at the time of billing.

Here is how it works—below is an average bill for an entire year.

Month	Present Use	You Can Pay 12 months	Present Use	You Can Pay 12 months

Gov. Robert Crosby Monday urged Secretary of Agriculture Benson to include Hayes, Dundy and Hitchcock Counties in the emergency wind erosion control program.

"Drought has been extremely severe in these counties. Erosion conditions very bad. Emergency assistance needed," the governor wired the cabinet member.

HR 8481 now pending in Congress would set up the program. As the measure stands now, no Nebraska counties are included.

In a letter to the secretary, Gov. Crosby pointed out several Nebraska counties, largely in the southwestern portion of the state, have been suffering drought.

"The situation seems to be the most acute in Hayes, Dundy and

Hitchcock Counties," the governor's letter said. "I am convinced that at least these three counties are in as desperate need of emergency wind erosion assistance as are the counties in other states which are qualified for this program," Crosby's letter concluded.

The governor's letter was the second appeal for relief of the drought stricken southwest Nebraska area. Last fall he asked federal aid for Hitchcock County when the Department of Agriculture initiated steps to protect livestock and farm operations in severely hurt Midwest and Southwest areas. But the Nebraska county was not added to the aid list.

Robert L. Zink, conservation specialist with the state ASC, said the wind erosion tillage requests for Hayes, Dundy and Hitchcock Counties already embraced 91,224 acres.

These included 48,521 in Hitchcock County, 15,500 in Dundy and 27,203 in Hayes. They were filed in anticipation of the extension of federal aid into Nebraska.

Congress recently approved a $15 million emergency appropriation which would allow approximately $1.25 an acre for tillage measures and cover crop planting against further erosion especially next winter.

Zink said the state ASC already had earmarked some funds for limited aid but said that emergency federal aid would considerably increase presently available amounts.

The federal emergency tillage measure is planned on a cost sharing basis for work started after March 30. Requests for payment are to be made before June 1 or before the day the practices begin, whichever is later.

Columbus Woman, Daughter Injured In Iowa Mishap

MOUNT AYR, Ia., (AP) — Mrs. Barney Mickel of Columbus, Neb., and her daughter, Alice, 11, were hospitalized here Monday with injuries suffered in an auto accident eight miles east of here. Neither was reported in serious condition.

Deputies of Sheriff Homer Todd said they were informed that 14-year-old Lloyd Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Kellerton, made a "U" turn on the highway after stopping at a mail box and the car in which Mrs. Mickel was riding with her husband and daughter collided with it broadside.

Mickel suffered only minor injuries. The family was returning to Columbus.

Garden Clubs Contribute To Testing Plan

The Federated Garden Clubs of Nebraska have contributed $500 to the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station says Mrs. Ray G. Goodell of Norfolk, president of the organization.

This fund will be used exclusively for the support of the ornamental plant breeding program under the direction of Glenn Viehmyer at the North Platte Experiment Station, Mrs. Goodell adds.

Under Viehmyer's direction the horticultural investigations at North Platte have been changed largely from a testing program to one with major emphasis on ornamental and small fruit breeding.

Between 1943 and 1953 over 300 varieties of small fruits were placed on trial. Sixty varieties of grapes, including American bunch varieties and the French-American hybrids were put under trial.

Other projects in co-operation with the Cheyenne Horticultural Field Station at Cheyenne, Wyo., include strawberry breeding as well as raspberry breeding and selection to produce hardier and better fruiting varieties and aster breeding to select varieties resistant to the virus disease, aster yellows.

Rose breeding was initiated in 1953 and will be increased.

Other activities in the field of horticulture include the testing of new selections of lilies from breeders as well as a limited breeding program; co-operation in a regional program of testing woody ornamental plants; the increase and introduction to the nursery trade of woody ornamentals of proven hardiness. The breeding of improved varieties of carnations; and exploratory hybridization of the better florists' carnations with hardy Dianthus species to produce hardy, high quality garden carnations.

Reservoir Name Forsyth Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—The reservoir to be built along with Gavins Point Dam on the Missouri River would be named Forsyth Reservoir under legislation introduced by Rep. Harrison (R-Neb.).

Harrison said he wanted the dam named in honor of John Forsyth of Niobrara, Neb., president of the Upper Missouri Improvement Association.

Gavins Point Dam is one of a series of multi-purpose dams on the Missouri. It is near the Nebraska-South Dakota border.

Hushed Gallery Hears Segregation In Schools Ruled Unlawful

...Fall Hearings Set On How To End Pupil Separation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday that the states of the nation do not have the right to separate Negro and white pupils in different public schools.

By a unanimous 9-0 vote, the high court held that such segregation of the races is unconstitutional.

Chief Justice Warren read the historic decision to a packed but hushed gallery of spectators nearly two years after Negro residents of four states and the District of Columbia went before the court to challenge the principle of segregation.

The ruling does not end segregation at once. Further hearings were set for this fall to decide how and when to end the practice of segregation. Thus a lengthy delay is likely before the decision is carried out.

Dean Acheson, secretary of state under former President Harry Truman, was in the courtroom to hear the ruling. He called it "great and statesmanlike."

Brownell Present

Atty. Gen. Brownell was also present. He declined comment immediately. Brownell and the Eisenhower administration, like Truman's, opposed segregation.

For years 17 southern and "border" states have imposed compulsory segregation of approximately two-thirds of the nation's Negroes. Officials of some states already are on record as saying they will close the schools rather than permit them to be operated with Negro and white pupils in the same classrooms.

In its decision, the high court struck down the long standing "separate but equal" doctrine first laid down by the Supreme Court in 1896 when it maintained that segregation was all right if equal facilities were made available for Negroes and whites.

Here is the heart of Monday's decision as it deals with this hotly controverted doctrine:

"We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though the physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal educational opportunities?"

"We believe that it does."

James C. Hagerly, presidential press secretary, told a news conference the White House would have no comment at this time.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, one of the most outspoken supporters of segregation, hit back that the court's decision had reduced the Constitution to "a mere scrap of paper."

J. M. Hinton, South Carolina conference president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), said:

"Christianity and democracy have been given a great place in America through the elimination of segregation in public schools and Communism has lost a talking point."

The appeals from the four states—Kansas, Delaware, Virginia and South Carolina—challenged the legality of segregation on the ground that it violated the 14th Amendment to the Constitution. The District of Columbia complaint alleged violation of the Fifth Amendment.

The 14th Amendment, put through shortly after the end of the Civil War, was designed to reinforce the rights of the newly freed slaves. It said that no state may deprive any person of due process or equal rights under the law.

The Fifth Amendment gives all persons involved in court cases dealing with federal matters the right to due process of law.

Broader Interpretation

Actually, the court did not decide the question purely on the basis of these amendments.

Warren wrote that the court "cannot turn the clock back" to the enactment of the 14th Amendment in 1868 or the imposing of the "separate but equal" doctrine in 1896.

"We must consider public education," Warren wrote, "in the light of its full development and its present place in American life throughout the nation."

"Only in this way can it be determined if segregation in public schools deprives these plaintiffs of the equal protection of the laws."

"Today, education is perhaps the most important function of state and local governments... It is the very foundation of good citizenship... In these days it is doubtful that any child may reasonably be expected to succeed in life if he is denied the opportunity of an education.

"Such an opportunity where the state has undertaken to provide it, is a right which must be made available to all on equal terms."

The court minced no words in applying the "equal rights" section of the 14th Amendment to the issue of school segregation. It said:

"We hold that the plaintiffs and others similarly situated for whom the action has been brought are, by reason of the segregation complained of, deprived of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th Amendment."

Warren's opinion noted that enforcement of the court ruling raised "problems of considerable complexity."

It was for this reason that the court ordered further arguments in the fall. Brownell and the attorneys general of all states where segregation is now permitted were invited to take part, so that appropriate decrees can be worked out.

Briefs must be filed by Oct. 1. The decision was made public in a highly unusual manner. Normally, copies of Supreme Court rulings are given to reporters simultaneously with the start of their reading from the bench.

In this case, no copies were given out until after Warren had finished reading the opinion. Thus it was not until he was well into it was the full import of the court's decision known—that segregation had been ruled unconstitutional.

Health Department Needs Taking Up All Of Statehouse Laboratory Space

Laboratory space in the Statehouse is being used to capacity in meeting demands on the State Health Department, Director L. O. Vose told the state board of health Monday.

The laboratory ran 200,000 tests last year. When he joined the department in 1919, it was making only 1,500 tests a year, Vose explained.

The laboratory employs six persons of professional rank, besides the director.

Vose attributed the phenomenal increase in the number of specimens tested to "the gradual increase in the use and appreciation of laboratory work."

Makes Water Tests

Enactment in 1943 of legislation requiring pre-marital and prenatal tests was one of the factors contributing to the increase in laboratory work.

The department runs periodic tests of 425 municipal water supplies. It also makes tests for schools and other public facilities.

Vose said the fact that the laboratory is located in the Statehouse restricts the activity somewhat.

There are certain virus tests which it is inadvisable to make out of consideration for the safety of workers in the rest of the building, Vose said.

The laboratory's work also is hampered by the lack of satisfac-

Now hospitals care for twice as many patients as in 1940

SINCE 1940, hospital admissions in the United States have risen from 10 million a year to 19 million. They now admit a new patient every 1.6 seconds!

There are many reasons for this dramatic increase. Our population has been growing steadily. Nine out of ten babies are now born in hospitals. Advances in medical and surgical knowledge enable hospitals to treat a wider variety of diseases. More people can afford hospital care because of hospital insurance and other pie-payment plans.

And our whole attitude toward hospitals has changed: we now call on them for help in prolonging life rather than as a last resort in serious illness.

Even though the average stay in hospitals has dropped from 12 days in 1938 to 7½ days, so many more people are being admitted that the facilities of most voluntary hospitals are seriously overburdened. What's more, their operating costs have risen sharply. Improved techniques often require expensive new equipment. And, in many cases, there is a serious shortage of nurses, attendants and other personnel. All of which has created acute problems for the voluntary hospitals of the nation.

Everyone can help by taking an active interest in the problems of the voluntary hospitals in his community. Contribute generously to hospital fund drives. Volunteer your spare-time services, too—so that highly trained hospital personnel can be freed for work that demands their special skills.

Everyone will benefit—the hospitals, your entire community!

Semi-Pro Leagues Set To Go

Karthouser Back With Holdrege in NIL

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member
P. O. Karthouser, the hustler who runs semi-pro baseball in Holdrege, comes back to that central state town this week to prepare the young Bears for the Nebraska Independent League opener May 30.
P.O., a former Brooklyn catching prospect down in Fort Worth, has been in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He will return to a Holdrege team which looks like a college club picked from mid-west schools.
Bob Shirley from Kansas U. and Ron Moose Womack of Garmon of Colorado U. will handle the pitching with help from Chuck Neill, a leading pitcher with Lexington in 1949.
Leo McKillip and Bill Becher will be in the outfield while Dirkes Rolston and Bill Giles of Nebraska are set at short and first. Rolston was with Lex last summer while Giles was at first for the Bears. Carroll Hardy of C.U. Bob Davidson of Texas U. Hastings' Charley Stickle will be in there along with Jim Decker, the Omaha Holy Name football player who is expected to be in the UCLA backfield next fall out on the west coast.

Kearney will go with the veteran pitchers of the 1953 championship team, Chuck Eisenmann and Bob Gill. Eisenmann has been working with the Tulsa Oilers and the Memphis Chicks during a southern conditioning tour.
Eddie Berg, the ex-pro who is coaching at Lyons, will be at second while a shortstop named Jack Wilcox who hit 40 doubles and 274 in the Longhorn League at Artesit, N.M. last summer also will become an Irishman. Manager Floyd Stickney plans to ride the bench.
Former Lincoln Chief Moose Womack will be at first and Kearney High Coach Frank Sarevie, veteran Jim Reaugh and power-hitting Ray Johnson are in the outfield.

Lexington has gone to a professional manager in Red Barrett, the former Boston Braves and Cardinals right hander who was one of the best in the National League in the early Forties.
Barrett has signed strong Ron Bennett of the Oklahoma Aggies for the outfield and Stretch Jackson of the pro ranks out of Kansas City for first. Always loaded with young players, the Minutemen again are looking for college boys to fill the holes. An Arizona U. shortstop is expected to replace Dirkes Rolston while Jackson has the spot of Ray Novak, the Husker who is going into pro ball.
Fred Seger of the Huskers, was headed back to Lex but has been talking to the scouts who like him as a professional prospect.
Dud Graham of Hastings again will direct the NIL umpires.
Nebraska lefthander Fran Hoynaer will go to Valentine where some Oklahoma Sooners are expected to play this summer. Jim Cederdahl is slated for David City where Norm Coufal again will shortstop under Manager Tony Sharpe.
Bob Lohrborg will catch at Columbus under Bill Jensen, Lincoln High coach and the Columbus playing manager again. Lefty Dick Geier may be back with that club and Pat Mallette is reported headed there or into pro ball.
Virg Gottsch, the Pioneer Night League batting champion last year, will be back at Wahoo where Murray Backhaus will catch after two seasons with North Platte in the NIL.
Pro ball may attract Jim Maul, the Lincoln High center-fielder who probably will skip college. Gary Smith of the Links probably will end up in the Cornhusker League where Bob Barnett, now a Harvard frosh, and pitcher Rog Bortoff played in 1953, and may return.
Don Erway, the Columbus catcher who will be a Husker quarterback in the fall, is reported as the North Platte catcher.
The PNL opens Sunday night when new member Herman goes to Columbus with Paul Hancock running the fresh entry. Former Lincoln Chief Mason Bowes or Omaha Jim Benes may start for Wahoo against David City.
Schuyler is at Fremont where Bob Reynolds will be the Night Hawk second baseman in a comeback performance. Manager Lou Mahacek of Fremont is shy a catcher and a shortstop, the veteran Wesleyan coach Irv Peterson having retired from the infield spot he held through the recent successful Fremont seasons.

Olson To Defend Crown Second Time In August

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson will make his second defense of his world middleweight title, and his first in his home town, against Cleveland's Rocky Castellani next August in a nationally telecast 15-round scrap.
Olson is being guaranteed a $125,000 purse.
Agreement to stage the fight in San Francisco's sprawling livestock Exposition Building, known as "The Cow Palace," was reached Monday in Cleveland. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, is expected to announce the exact date in the next five days.
The Cow Palace, scene of an assortment of activities such as circus, horse shows and basketball games, can be made to seat around 18,000 for a fight. Promoter Benny Ford expects to scale the big auditorium so as to gross $250,000.
He said the fight will be televised nationally but blacked out in this immediate area.
Castellani, who hails originally from Luzerne, Pa., lost to Ernie Durando in early eliminations determining an opponent for Bobo for the American title a year ago but avenged that loss later. He also has whipped Joey Giardello, Pierre Langlois, Johnny Braton and Gene Hairston.
Olson, a poker-faced, slope-shouldered brawler, won the American title by defeating Paddy Young in July, 1953, and took the world's title in a fight with Randy Turpin in New York last October.
The balding former Honolulu fighter first defended his crown against welterweight champion Kid Gavilan in Chicago April 2. Castellani is regarded as the

No. 1 contender for Olson's title. Joey Giardello, the second ranking contender from Philadelphia, said in New York he was disappointed that Olson didn't give him the nod. Harry Markson, IBC's managing director, said Norris had assured Giardello that if Olson wins over Castellani then Joey will get the next crack at Bobo in the fall.
Olson was on vacation and not immediately available for his reaction to the upcoming scrap.

Wesleyan Is Dropped 5-3 By Creighton

Lincoln Star Special
OMAHA—Creighton University came from behind in the late innings here Monday afternoon to defeat Nebraska Wesleyan, 5-3, and tie the Lincoln team for the championship of the Mid West Baseball Conference.
It was the last conference game for each team. Their records are 5-4.
Creighton Pitcher Matt Ulrich won his game with two outs in the seventh when he singled in two runs.
Creighton had tied it in the sixth with two runs, Fritz Staek stealing home to knot the score.
The Bluejays scored twice in the first off Pitcher Warren Foster, but Wesleyan came back with one run in the third on singles by Foster and Mel Sheary and two runs in the fourth on errors. A single by Larry Luhrs and Ron Keefer's double.
Keefer had two for four for Wesleyan.
Whether a playoff will be held has not been determined.

Tom Branagan Referees 'Bout'

Friendly Louis, Schmeling Meet Again

By TOM BRANAGAN
CHICAGO (AP)—It wasn't a bit like old times Monday night when Joe Louis and Max Schmeling got together.
For one thing, both parties were much too friendly. For another, they resembled only slightly the two excellent fighters who exchanged pulverizing ring victories over one another in the late '30s.
Louis, now a paunchy 39, and Schmeling, 48 and mellow, got together at a Chicago night club in a visit sponsored by mutual friends.
It was the first time they had met since Louis "nearly killed" challenger Schmeling—the words are Max's—defending his heavyweight boxing title in June, 1938.
Two years before that Schmeling, in a tremendous upset, handed Louis his first professional boxing defeat with a 12th round knockout. Louis didn't lose another fight until after he announced his retirement as champion in 1949.
There were frequent reports before and after their second fight that there was hard feeling between the two, supposedly because Louis resented statements attributed to Schmeling belittling Joe's race. If true, there was no evidence of it last night and both denied there ever had been bad blood between them.
"We were the victims of bad propaganda," said Schmeling as the two former champions posed playfully with one another for photographers. "There never was any bad feeling on my part."
Louis agreed. "We're good friends," he declared.
Both also agreed on the reason Schmeling kayaked Joe in their first fight, when Louis was thought to be invincible.
"I watched Joe fight," said the German, "and I watched pictures of his fights. I noticed that every time he jabbed with his left hand, he did not return it to a high protective position. He would drop it, leaving the whole left side of his head wide open. I made him lead and then I would cross with my right, when his left was down."
Schmeling did this so successfully and so often that Louis' features were puffed almost beyond recognition when the bout finally ended in the 12th—three record.

Midland went ahead in the third when Pitcher Bob Peterson singled, stole second and third and came in on a sacrifice fly. Doane scored two runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, mostly on Midland errors.

"He made up for it, though," interjected Schmeling, alluding to their second fight which lasted just about 2:04 seconds, in which period Louis had floored Schmeling three times with a vicious attack. "I still don't know what happened. I guess he nearly killed me."
Joe smiled graciously at this tribute.
Schmeling arrived in this country from Germany Saturday. He is going to referee one or two preliminary bouts on a Milwaukee fight card tonight, then, he says, he is going to "look into" the possibilities of a tour of the country refereeing wrestling matches.
"He should do it," said Louis, who has been refereeing wrestling exhibitions himself. "He should get around the country and let the people have another look at him."

France Outlines Plan For Quick Peace

GENEVA (AP) — France laid a Western proposal for a quick peace in Indo-China before the Geneva conference Monday, but most of the secret session was devoted to a wrangle over evacuation of Dien Bien Phu's wounded.

The Western proposal was reported to outline detailed steps for ending hostilities, leaving political decisions for later. However, details of the plan were not made public. It was presented less than an hour before the session ended, and little debate was possible.

The question of evacuating the wounded from Dien Bien Phu was unsettled as the nine delegations ended their session. A reliable conference source said the Communists, headed by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Red China's Chou En-lai, again tried to bring the French and Vietnamese into direct negotiations on the question here.

Bidault Balks

Although sentiment among some members of the French delegation for entering such negotiations was reported, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault has consistently rejected this course. He rejected it again Monday, the informant said.

A communique issued by U.S. delegation headquarters after the meeting said only that statements were heard on the evacuation of the wounded and that peace in Indo-China also was discussed.

Bidault left Geneva for Evian, France, after Monday's session to visit Vietnamese chief of state Bao Dai.

Bidault's visit follows one paid to Bao Dai Sunday night by U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith. The French were reported unfavorably impressed by Bao Dai's independent dealing with the United States.

Strict Secrecy

The nine parties to the negotiations—the Big Four, Red China, Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia, and the Vietnamese representatives—met in a smaller room Monday. The secrecy of the meeting was so strictly observed it was not learned who had spoken.

One reliable informant said definitely that there had been some translation from the Russian language, which would mean that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had entered the dispute. This informant said there had been several brisk exchanges.

When the conference broke up for refreshments after more than two hours of debate, only the question of Dien Bien Phu's wounded had been discussed, it was learned. The remaining 45 minutes of the session—the fifth devoted to Indo-China—could have been used for the presentation of the French proposals for an early armistice.

No Issue

There was a brief misunderstanding at the opening of the session when Molotov and Chou arrived with four advisers each and an interpreter. The delegates had agreed at their last sessions that Monday's meeting would be restricted to the delegation heads, each with three advisers and an interpreter. However, it was said the Western delegates did not make an issue of the incident and let the Communists have their way. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was reported to have opened the discussion on the interrupted removal of wounded from Dien Bien Phu. As chairman of the day, he had planned to read a letter from the Vietnamese foreign minister, Pham Van Dong, answering a Western complaint about violation of the evacuation agreement. Dong's answer was described by a British spokesman as "completely negative."
